Art Unit: 3753

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 10-13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rokman et al.

Note that Rokman et al. has an effective filing date of April 5, 2000. Rokman et al. teaches a chopped fiber mat with layers of different fiber densities (Fig. 5, paragraph 45 of the specification). Note also the last sentence of paragraph 28, indicating that the mat may be impregnated with resin to form a finished product. The recitation in the claims of a “thermally conductive material” with which the fibers are deployed fails to define over Rokman et al. because the claims are not limited to any particular level of conductivity. Regarding claim 13, see paragraph 26.

Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 3753

DeAngelis et al. and Shimizu et al. concern devices with fiber density variations/gradients.

This is an RCE of applicant's earlier Application of the same serial number. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed earlier in the application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered previously in the application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
